Under brick roofs
and rain-dampened clouds
Huddled together
among shuffling feathers
First flight is upon us
Awaiting the ascent
The Wind speaks of inception —
Time embarks —
Fledglings wobble and waver
So far to soar.

To Phillip F. Flaherty

Throughout our years at Westwood High School your supportive influence has nurtured our growth from uncertain followers to mature and confident leaders. Your understanding and concern has drawn us to you. We sought advice and always found a friend. Your personal interest in us as unique individuals has guided us through these four challenging years.

You were generous with your time, forever finding a moment for words of encouragement when days were difficult. Your devotion and enthusiasm for our class have imprinted warm memories in our hearts.

It is with great appreciation, love, and respect that we dedicate the 1980 Green Years to you, Mr. Philip Flaherty.

Best Wishes For A Happy Retirement

Celia Viall

During the sixteen years that Celia Viall has been Director of Guidance for the Westwood Public Schools, she has proven to be a valued friend of students, parents, faculty, and administration. Her active involvement in a variety of school programs enabled her to give guidance and direction to school and community.

As a counselor, Mrs. Viall has always taken a special interest in each of her students, providing them with personal, academic and career/educational counseling. Each year she provides each student with information about post secondary alternatives and requirements.

Celia Viall should be remembered as one who cares greatly about her students.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wentzell

Some years back, Mrs. Wentzell stopped by W.H.S. — to help out English teachers for a few hours each week. She never left, staying on to inspire and help a whole generation of her own classes to discipline their prose, untangle their grammar, and discover new worlds of experience and understanding in their books. Hundreds and hundreds of her students found her unbounded energy and enthusiasm contagious; it seemed as if she never, ever, slowed down.

Now that she leaves W.H.S. with the Class of '80, is she finally, at long last, going to stop? Take it easy for a change? Just sit around and enjoy her grandchildren?

You might ask her — if you can find her. Try the slopes of Cannon or Wildcat as she schusses by. Or try the waters of Long Island Sound or the Caribbean; she might be crewing on that big yawl or sloop over there. Maybe you'd have better luck on the Champs Elysées, where she could be relaxing, sipping an apéritif in a sidewalk cafe, just watching, for once in her life, the world go by.

Wherever you do manage to track her down, be sure of one thing: those around "Libby" are having a better day, feeling younger than they have a right to feel, enjoying life more. They will have caught some of Mrs. Wentzell's inimitable zest for living.

Frederica Richardson

Beginning in the Home Economics Department in 1967, Mrs. Richardson transferred to the Social Studies Department the following year where she introduced the courses in psychology. Mrs. Richardson was a teacher dedicated to each child who attended her classes. She encouraged each student to recognize his own worth, study to his potential, and become a better person. She felt each child was basically good and only required the encouragement, guidance, and tolerance of an adult in order to develop into a responsible citizen. Westwood High will miss the devotion and concern of Mrs. Richardson.

1980

The time has come for each of us to go our separate ways. We have but a mere menagerie of memories to depict such a crucial time in our lives.

The past four years have been a period of much anxiety and happiness. We have had to make decisions that will affect the rest of our lives. We have received much help and guidance in making these decisions. No matter what path of life we have chosen, whether it be in the business world, the armed services, or further education, it is our duty to see that these obligations are fulfilled. We are entering a society with many problems. However, each one of us will be able to make a substantial contribution to amend these difficulties.

We were a class of unity and spirit, but now we must be individuals, and individuals in our own right, for each of us will achieve success in his own unique way.

The future holds but a world awaiting for us to partake.

Best Wishes . . .

—Sonja K. Margeson

IN MEMORIAM

Some builders build a temple
they wrought it with grace and skill;
pillars and groins and arches
all fashioned to work their will.
Men said, as they saw its beauty,
"It shall never know decay;
great is your skill, O Builders,
your fame shall endure for e'er

Some teachers build a temple with loving infinite care,
they took pains with all their efforts
planning each stone with prayer.
None praised their unceasing efforts
none knew of their wondrous plan, for the temple the teachers build was unseen by the eyes of man.

Gone is the builder's temple
crumpled into the dust;
low lies each stately pillar,
food for the consuming rust;
but the temple the teachers build will last while the ages roll, for that beautiful unseen temple was a young man's immortal soul.

DONNY, FOR YOU

And now
it's time
to look before us;
the future awaits.

But first
we stop,
taking time
to say good-bye.

Past is gone
but memories linger;
Your contagious laughter
and cheering enthusiasm.

Friendship in the past;
we miss your sincerity,
eagerness and devotion,
to hockey — to life.

Time to go;
good-bye's to each other,
But not to you.

Instead we hold your spirit close,
carrying the memory
within our hearts —
forever.

— Karen Wolfe

Senior Class History

Freshmen — that dirty word given to the “little People” of the high school scene was finally being attached to us. The fall of '76 thrust us through the massive gates of Westwood high and into the beginning of our four busy years here, trying to sort out our feelings for the future.

Even though the Seniors seemed monstrously huge as well as potentially dangerous, and the entire faculty was out to get us, we managed to swallow our fears just long enough to establish ourselves as a class with class.

One of the first activities we encountered was the magazine drive sponsored by the A.F.S. Club. We pulled together as a class and raised the most money ever by a freshman class.

Our athletic ability was demonstrated by the great number of freshmen participating in varsity sports. We enthusiastically cheered the girls' basketball team as they broke a national record, winning 73 consecutive games.

Although we were “beat upon” as freshmen on athletic teams by being forced to wear signs on our backs or uniforms to school, we knew that one day we would be upper-classmen . . . and get revenge.

In addition to our athletic ability, we proved that we were also musically inclined. Many of us participated in the production of “South Pacific.”

In early May, as we watched in shock and surprise, some unexpected guests squeaked into the cafeteria unnoticed. An uproar soon began as greased pigs squirmed their way through the cafeteria, under tables, chairs, and feet . . . a memorable senior class prank.

Under the able leadership of President, Kathy Powers; Vice-President, Allen White; Secretary, Barrie Sesnovich; and Treasurer, Ed Hanley, we were the first class ever to raise money in their freshman year. In June, we had our first class field trip, to Lincoln Park. As the buses rolled back to the high school, we knew our freshman year was over . . . we were more than ready to advance to sophomore standings.

Sophomore Year:

Led by our extremely capable class officers: President, Lynne Walsh; Vice-President, Allen White; Secretary, Elaine Nee; and Treasurer, Joe Tofoloni, the class of '80 finally started to plant its feet solidly on the ground. As seemingly inferior sophomores, we ventured into the world of biology with Mr. Sarris and Mrs. Saltmarsh, and Oral English with Miss Shute and her diaphragm exercises.

This year, too, we were introduced to junior varsity and varsity athletics and, boy, did we come through! The winter track team captured the state title, while the J.V. boys' and girls' basketball, and the J.V. baseball were all immensely successful. Perhaps the most memorable events of this year occurred in the Boston Garden and the Holy Cross Gymnasium. In the Garden, the Wolverine hockey team won a come-from-behind overtime victory over Ipswich, with our own Jerry Malloy scoring the winning goal. In our next attempt in the Semi-Finals, we bowed to Barnstable in a gallantly fought game before multitudes of Wolverine fans. You'd never know we lost by the way we demonstrated our sportsmanship on the bus ride home. Secondly, the varsity girls' basketball team stomped over all opponents, roaring to the state finals before losing a rather questionable (refs!) contest to Drury, 42-41.

Financially, our class was prosperous in selling refreshments at “hoop” games and various bake sales, led primarily by Joe T. and Mr. Earls, our class advisor.

This was also the year of the unforgettable “invitation-only” Frye bash which featured live entertainment and flashing blue lights.

Other highlights of our sophomore year included the school musical “Hello Dolly,” the surprising Thanksgiving Day upset against Holliston, 14-0, the successful sophomore semi-formal, and, of course, the unforgettable Mohawk haircut fad, a profitable fad at that, as Gibbo walked away with $250.

So ended our years as under-classmen for we were about to enter the world of upper-classmen and with it, superiority. Though, it was to take the upcoming summer vacation for us to adjust to our new status.

Junior Year:

Our junior year was long awaited, and at last we gloated as upper-classmen. We all received warnings of a tough academic year, but we were wished the best of luck. PSAT's, NMSQT's, SAT's, and Achievements were taken for the first time, and we took them on with confidence.

Our class officers: President, Chris Redden; Vice-President, Allen White; Secretary, Nancy Procaccino; and Treasurer, Bill Crabtree did a great job of keeping up our class unity and spirit. We were fortunate enough to partake in the First Annual Homecoming Week. Elaine Nee was elected by the majority of our class as a member of the Homecoming Court. As far as the class competitions during Homecoming Week, we know who really won!

This year was a great one for many athletic achievements, as the girls' basketball team and the winter track team were state champs for their divisions. The boys' basketball team, the hockey team, the baseball team, and the girls' and boys' tennis teams all partook in tournament action.

The highlight of our year was the prom held at the Blue Hills Country Club. Many of us danced the night away, but not to “The Long and Winding Road.” Of course, being a Junior Prom, it was one of the most successful in W.H.S.'s history. The suspense in waiting to discover who would be Queen was highlighted by Kathy Powers, Kathy Welling, Marea DeAngelis, and Maura Winslow being selected members of the Junior Court.

Two other memorable activities during our junior year were the spring musical “Anything Goes!” with our classmates Sue Downes and Betsy London taking part, and the A.F.S. program, which gave Barrie Sesnovich the chance to spend the summer in Turkey, while Sue Christiansen visited Brazil.

At last we all met the qualifications to be seniors. We had lots of class spirit, class unity, anticipation, and a sense of superiority. We were on our way, leaving trademarks behind — our most famous being the forbidden corner of abandoned lockers where the OSB's, the UA, and the Sultans used to reside. Thank-you, Mr. Burke, for laughing with us; we left some happy memories behind us. Now we're on our way to the very top.

Senior Year:

Finally, we had arrived. Having survived three eventful years, we were now the “big-shots” on campus. For the past three years, we had exhibited an unprecedented amount of class unity and had made many lasting friendships that never were to be destroyed. Before our year had even begun, the class of '80 had successfully pulled off its first prank. Upon arriving at the school on our first day, we were greeted by a courtyard full of “borrowed” signs. Thank-you, guys, for your midnight construction.

Our deserving class officers: President, Bill Brady; Vice-President, Lynne Walsh; Secretary, Nancy Procaccino; and Treasurer, Ed Hanley — together with an extremely active student council and National Honor Society — organized many great activities which were to keep us busy throughout the year.

The Second Annual Homecoming Week was again a huge success and only further united the school as a whole. Class decoration of the halls had a few minor difficulties, but otherwise the week ran smoothly. Other daily activities included Clash Day, Green Pride Day, and Hat Day. We demonstrated good sportsmanship as we accepted our last place position with dignity. A special thanks and congratulations to Mr. Fischler for symbolizing the true spirit of this week. At the end of the week, the queen and her court were announced. They rode in the Homecoming Parade, well protected by Brady and his secret police staff trailing behind them. The three seniors elected were Ellen O'Neil as queen, and Karen Wolfe and Marea DeAngelis as the senior court. All three, it was agreed, characterized great school spirit and a few other exceptional traits.

The Halloween Dance was another immense success. The variety and originality of the costumes were quite a sight, with Ed Hanley winning an award as the second coming of John Belushi, boldly dressed in a toga. Another success was the winning duo of Jane DeSisto and Tim Foley — will they ever grow up!

As a class, we all extended a helping hand to successfully build the class treasury. A fleamarket became reality through the hard work of our class officers, school clubs, senior class faculty advisors, and many athletic teams. This particular fleamarket was also the beginning of a new fad. Jeff Smith eagerly volunteered his stomach as a fishbowl and cautiously "slid down" two goldfish.

Not to be outdone, Herb Irvine quite nonchalantly swallowed sixteen of these live fish to add to the half-time excitement at the Homecoming football game, held the following Saturday.

Also, thanks to Lynne Walsh, the class of '80 sold doughnuts each morning, raising money toward defraying the costs of various class activities.

Around the beginning of October, we began giving serious consideration to the matter of college. SAT's and Achievements, campus visits, interviews, and applications — these words were drilled into our heads, not only by guidance counsellors, but by parents and teachers as well.

From the first weekend in September, our social lives screamed for variety and, boy, did we find it! Thanks mainly to the football team, parties became a constant event in our lives. Proceeding the Schaefer Stadium game, we caravanned to Zuch's house for one of the best "screamers" of the year. "Those Insipid Doors" were forever blaring as the football team, like a choir, echoed the tunes of "Roadhouse Blues." From that night on, it was non-stop partying. First Bill's, then Chuck's (complete with live entertainment), followed by Emo's, and the partying climaxed at Bob's, who featured the glories of the great outdoors.

When the "men in blue" did occasionally find themselves at a party, it was off to Lost Brook, which accommodated us rather nicely. Another fad seemed to be that of all-nighters where "signage" and returning mailboxes had its origin. Perfectly enough, "Animal House" reappeared and it was off to the movie house for a class learning experience.

In this, our senior year, there were many outstanding individuals: Rocky and Schroeder performed admirably, lending friendship and an occasional laugh to our year. Our A.F.S. exchange students were warmly invited into our class. Esteban Herrera, from Ecuador (a Daily Transcript all-star soccer player), Alain Gendron from Canada, and Anna Maria Ayerbe from Columbia, all studied hard, made new friends, and were seen at our parties.

A fun-filled memorable day for our class occurred on Teacher's Convention Day, October 24th. This year Bickford's was the site of the annual Senior Class Breakfast, and almost every member of the class of '80 showed up. Though service was shorthanded, many helped serve beverages. All managed to have a great time, and we headed back to the high school to witness the Westwood-Medfield Powder Puff football game.

Led by the fearless coaching duo of Chuck Brawley and Bill Crabtree, the Westwood girls trounced Medfield 29-12 as the partisan fans roared with delight as a group of rookie cheerleaders, though a bit rusty, illustrated some intriguing characteristics and abilities. On the field, it was all Westwood as Lynne Walsh, Valerie Allen, and Kelly Carey, plus numerous other stand-outs, dominated Medfield in every facet of the game.

In November, the acting ability of the class was triggered by the outlandish comedy "May the Farce Be With You," a "Star Wars" type production, the play, directed by Chris Keough and Miss Shute, was a smashing success with the likes of H<sub>2</sub>O Girl, Acrobat Man, Albatross, and the rest of the crew. Then, as cast members were departing, Allen White came through and announced his residence was to be the site of the cast party.

Athletically, we can be proud of ourselves for years to come. The Wolverine football team, though not able to reach its full potential, nevertheless generated much excitement and hope on the field. The entire soccer program at Westwood was successful, though the boys lost five games by a single goal. The volleyball team had a surprising year with a 9-2 record; they were the only fall varsity team to go in to post-season play as a participant in the Eastern Mass. tournament, some say because of the added support given to them by the b-ball and soccer teams.

There were two unexpected surprises this year. One of them was the shock we all received as our homeroom teachers passed out class ranks. One-tenth of our class was happy — the rest unhappy in many cases. Another unexpected event happened during Thanksgiving vacation. Who would have guessed that Bill O'Conner could have talked Mr. Stack out of a Chinese Civ. term paper. Of course, tackling a car wasn't such a modest way of going about it.

The snowy months of January and February brought an exciting display of class unity and spirit.

Inside the warmth of WHS's gymnasium, floods of avid fans supported our own hoop stars. It was on these Friday nights that the crowded bleachers came alive with paper confetti, spirited chants, and of course, a few clam-clap beatings.

For most of us, Saturday nights were spent huddled together in the Tabor "Freezer" cheering the triumphant Wolverines to one victory after another. Thanks to Mazz's occasional late nighters, our spirit carried into some rowdy early hours.

Rumor has it the football team would like to extend their appreciation for those "never-fail-weekend wailers" sponsored by the winter athletes!

Perhaps the most memorable experience of the winter season was our "rather expensive" visit to Smugglers Notch. Although the snow was scarce and skiing was limited, our resourceful seniors busied themselves with other activities that were offered at the resort . . . and then there was some indulging in those activities that weren't exactly "offered." After escaping Vermont's border free from further debt, all returned home slightly dazed with devious frozen grins.

P.S. THIS WAS NOT A SCHOOL SPONSORED TRIP!!

Our return from February vacation was welcomed by a spirited relocation of the cafeteria. A job well done — seniors 22, 30, 42, and 33.

On the eve of March 14, Davis' Darlings met Sanfason's Savages face to face in a brutal battle of the sexes. Bruises and other minor injuries have faded but the display of senior pride and unity will be long remembered.

Before long April appeared on the calendar, leaving us with two short months at Westwood High School and that contagious disease — Spring Fever.

Throughout our past four years at Westwood High School, the Administration always has been more than willing to help each of us receive the highest quality education possible.

Their enthusiasm in supporting school activities and functions, and their willingness to discuss our individual problems, has been highly appreciated.

For your leadership, diligence, and hard work, we, the class of 1980, thank you Mr. Duane Kocina, Dr. Margaret McNeill, and Mr. Phillip Flaherty.

Secretaries

A talented secretarial staff aids the administration, making every day run smoothly. Working together, Mrs. Landers, Mrs. Norton, as well as Mrs. Hancox, Mrs. Angelici, and Mrs. Kallenberg tackle mountains of paperwork and yet still have time to attend to the innumerable details that keep Westwood High running. The class of 1980 thanks them for a job superbly done.

Health

Nurse Clement was always ready to comfort any student with a headache or fever, calling home in severe cases and offering a band-aid for the small scrape.

Sometimes, Mrs. Clement would have to hunt down people's missing shots for measles or whooping cough and check up on missing athletic physicals and permits. She always listened and made someone feel better when things were bad. Westwood High School is indeed lucky to have someone as wonderful as she.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clement

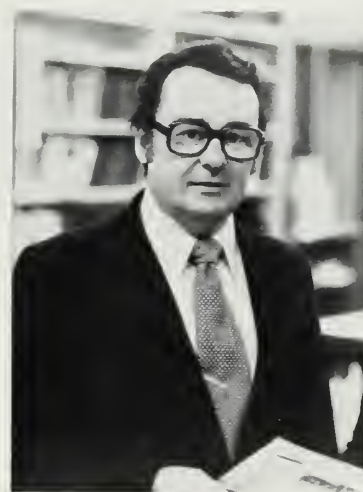

Mrs. Celia Viall
Director of Guidance

Over the years the Guidance Department has had the responsibility of counselling and scheduling the student body. By offering us the learning opportunities of career days, Higher Education Night, the career viewdeck, and the MOIS computer, they have provided ample opportunity for each student to make appropriate post-secondary plans.

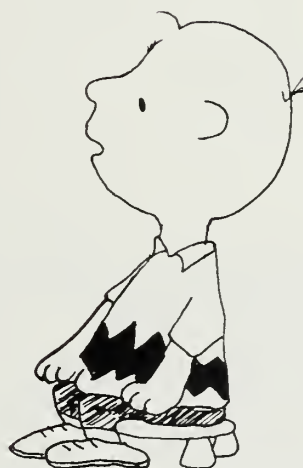

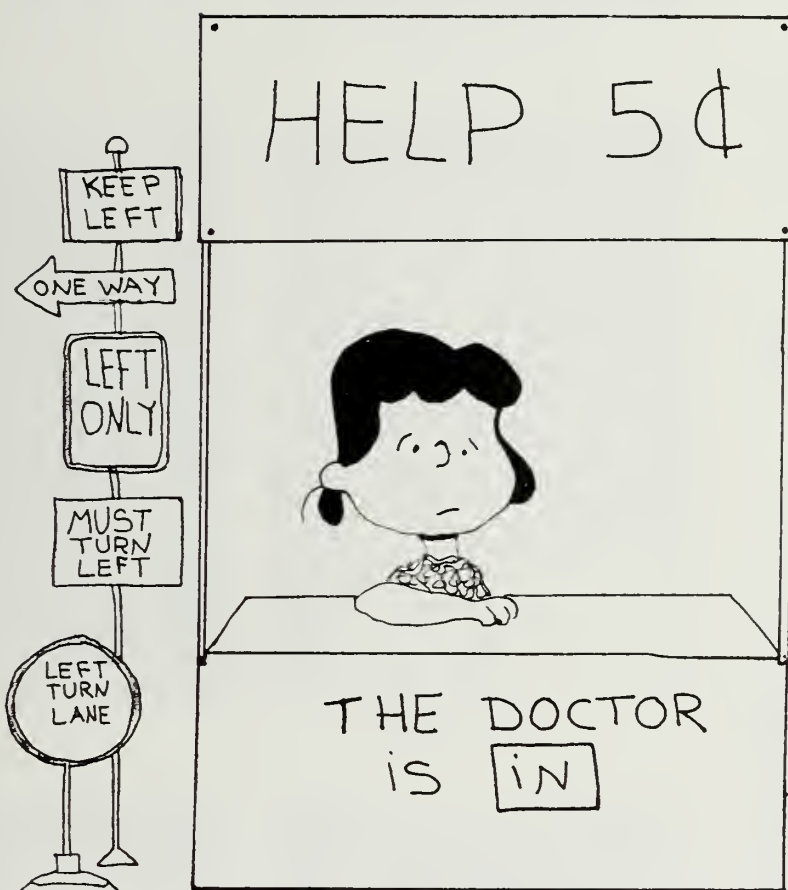

Although Mrs. Wheeler is not a counselor, her contributions as secretary to the Guidance Department are well recognized and appreciated by all. Also strengthening the department this year are newcomers Mrs. Susan Bornstein, C.E.T. Chairwoman; and Ms. Rona Weiss, School Psychologist.

Special thanks from the class of '80, to Director of Guidance, Mrs. Viall, and to Mrs. Lauer, Mr. Hughes, Mrs. Sheff, and Mrs. Donna Watkins for all their assistance with our college applications and our selection of future career choices.

Special Education

Under the direction of Mrs. Reardon and Miss Jackson, with the help of aides Mrs. Effgen and Mrs. Borgman, the Special Education classes are designed to teach students fundamentals and independence.

Other department members help enrich the education program of these students as well. Courses are offered by Mr. Sarris in science, Mr. Bonaiuto in music, and Mrs. Des Pres in art.

Working within their own classroom, students also learn how to cook meals and often celebrate special occasions with their own refreshments. During the holiday season, the students make their own ornaments and decorate a tree in their classroom.

Together, the staff members of the Learning Center help students develop the necessary skills needed for learning more efficiently. The ultimate goal of the Center is to mainstream those students with learning disabilities or a need for remedial assistance back into the regular classroom's educational program. The Center has been a most successful endeavor and has proven to be a laudable asset to W. H. S.

Under the direction of Mr. Eugene Swezey, and Librarian, Mrs. Virginia McCoubrey, the Media Center provides the high school with many learning resources.

From tapes and records, to books and magazines, materials are available to all. A fully-equipped television studio, as well as other audio-visual materials, is accessible to the student body under the direction of Mr. Harry Groden. Students needing assistance with the borrowing and signing out of materials are assisted by Mrs. Boger and Mrs. Markarian.

Work Study

This year, Mr. Richard Colucci, joined the faculty as coordinator of Work-Study or Distributive Education. Within this program, students are employed by local businesses where students are provided with an opportunity to learn retailing, marketing, and salesmanship, as well as other workday skills.

The change in location of the Work Study office has increased student interest and participation in this field of study.

Mr. Colucci should be congratulated for a very successful first year at the high school.

Business

Through courses offered by the Business Department, students acquire basic knowledge and skills concerning the business world around us.

A very broad range of courses offered include Introduction to Business, Business Law, Accounting, Office Procedures, Typewriting, Shorthand, and Data Processing.

A fine staff under the direction of Mrs. Marion Healy is responsible for a successful business program. With Mrs. Carolyn Bergen, Mrs. Natalie Carey, Mr. Charles Flahive, and Mr. Albert Nolan, students are assured of an informative learning experience.

English

The English Department, under the leadership of Miss Frances Burns, presented a diversified and challenging curriculum to both upper and lower classmen. This year an added full-year elective entitled "Highlights in Literature" was taught by Mrs. Evelyn Malm and Mr. Robin Tullock. Mr. Sanfason offered another popular new course, "Crisis in American Literature," while Ms. Curran introduced a "Study Skills" course to freshmen.

Under the efficient and capable direction of Mrs. Ellen Eberly, the English Department again sponsored the ever-popular school literary magazine, No Parentheses. The talented Miss Stephanie Shute, alias S. O. S., directed the school in another hit musical, "George M," as well as directed the senior class play, "May the Farce Be With You." Through the guiding hands of Miss Joan Dillon, the National Honor Society continued to carry on its many academic and community-oriented endeavors.

Art

The Art Department offered each student the opportunity to develop basic talents and to produce quality products of the different art mediums.

Under the direction of Mr. Delsignore, Mr. Milan's and Mrs. Despres' courses such as Ceramics, Art History, Metal Design and many others were eagerly selected by students.

The class of 1980 also would like to extend a warm thank you to the art staff for contributing their time and talents toward the designing of the various dramatic sets, publications, and events which required special guidance throughout our school year.

Music

Westwood's outstanding Music Department continues to offer a wide range of electives, including Theory I — IV, Band, Orchestra, Double Quartet, Glee Club, Chorus, Voice Training, Dance Band, "Music of Today," and "Music of the 16th to 19th Centuries."

More than one quarter of the school is involved in the music program and participates in annual events like the Junior-Senior High School Orchestra Concert held in November, the Seasonal Concert held on December 20, the musical, "George M," presented the first week in March, the "Pop" Concert held in mid-April, the Dance Band Tour in early May, the Band Concert, and the Choral Exchange.

Students with outstanding talent are selected to participate in S. E. District and All-State organizations.

Plaudits are well deserved by Department Chairman Mr. John Markarian and Mr. Sebastian Bonaiuto for the many hours of dedication they have given to Westwood High.

MATH

The Math Department, headed by Mr. James Pender, offers students courses of varying difficulty, from Math I to A. P. Calculus.

Working diligently, students tackled long division, probability, trig, conics, logarithms, and derivatives. Without the help of the Math Seminar room, however, we never might have made it — especially those of us who took Miss Bolles' A. P. Analysis class!!

Those enrolled in Computer Math fortunately had Miss Bulger, Mr. Pender, Mr. Hargreaves, and Mr. Kodzis help them compete against the computer.

Meanwhile, Mr. Pender led the Math Team on to victory as it competed against various schools in several tough bouts of competition.

LA LENGUA ESPAÑOLA

LA LANGUE FRANÇAISE

Mrs. Elaine Eaton
Department Head

The Foreign Language Department is comprised of a group of dedicated individuals who strive to broaden our minds with the knowledge of foreign cultures. Headed by Mrs. Elaine Eaton, the faculty instructs the students in various aspects of the language: grammar, fluency, and the customs of the people. The languages offered are Spanish, French, German, and Latin. German, taught by Mrs. Gray, was initiated into the department two years ago, and has become increasingly popular. Latin is a subject under the sole instruction of Mr. George Parker, who strives to instill in his pupils a love of Caesar. The two languages with the largest enrollments are Spanish and French.

In the past, there have been a Spanish Club headed by Mrs. Hollis Perry and a French Club headed by Miss Tieri. This year, however, both clubs combined to form the Language Club under the direction of Miss Tieri.

Throughout the year, students of French and Spanish also attend various "cultural experiences" such as restaurants, plays, ballets, and museums. The highlight of the year is the annual trip to the World Fair at the Hynes Auditorium. Mrs. Perry and Senor Dhimitri arrange the popular excursion in which a great number of students participate.

We owe thanks to Mrs. Eaton, Mr. Burke, Mr. Dhimitri, Mr. Ducheneau, Mrs. Gray, Mr. Parker, Mrs. Perry, and Miss Tieri for our knowledge of foreign cultures.

Mrs. Joanne Arnold

Mrs. Annette O'Brien

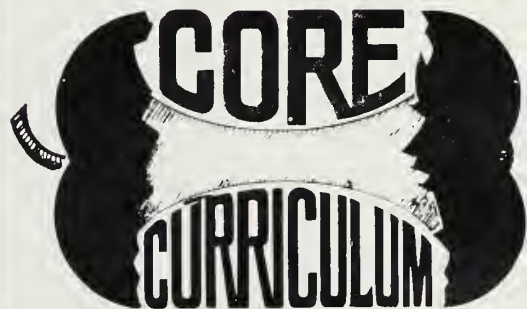

Under the direction of Miss Marguerite Knight, the Home Economics Department offered a wide variety of courses, many of which were career oriented. Advance Foods, Fashion Design, and Child Growth and Development are to name a few.

The department also offered many services to the school and community, such as completing special food preparations, clothing alterations and running a nursery school program.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Annette O'Brien, students work directly with fourteen young children in a primary school setting.

The designing and construction of costumes for the annual school musical is directed by Mrs. Joanne Arnold.

Although the department has only three teachers, almost 300 students elected the programs offered.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Under the direction of new department chairman, Mr. Lawrence Rettman, the students of Westwood High School are offered the practical industrial arts of electronics, woodworking, graphic science, metal working, mechanical drawing, and architectural drawing.

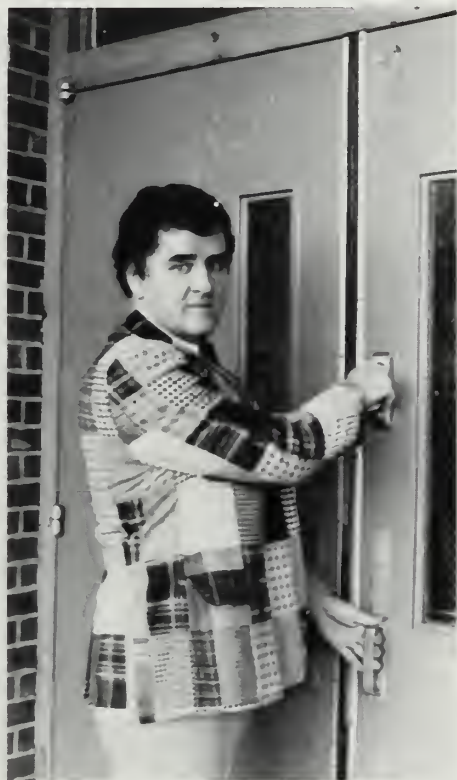

This September, Mr. Robert Dennis was warmly welcomed as a new member of the department.

Each year the graphic arts division, under the direction of Mr. Philip Gilbert, prints innumerable school programs and tickets for school functions as well as the masterful printing production of No Parentheses, Westwood High School's literary magazine.

Physical Education

Mr. Paul Tuccelli

Mr. Joseph Gearon
Athletic Director

This year the Physical Education Department, under the direction of new Athletic Director, Mr. Joseph Gearon, offered the student body a rigorous and varied curriculum.

Basketball, yoga, volleyball, tennis, weight training, and field hockey were among the electives from which we avidly chose our course requirements.

Sophomores were also required to take Health wherein they learned about C. P. R., avoiding illness, nutrition, and the vitamin content in "peas and corn" as eloquently taught by Mr. Tuccelli.

Except for a multitude of varsity member seniors, the rest of us eagerly created our "bodies beautiful" under the direction of Ms. Rice, Mr. Bonn, Mr. Downes, Mr. Tuccelli, and Mrs. Delaney-Smith.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year the Student Council met with its most successful year by far under the leadership of Miss Bolles, advisor, President Collette Kelly, Vice-President Kathy Powers, Secretary Chris Kuppens, and Treasurer Becky Carver. Enjoyed by all, the Second Annual Homecoming Week was a great success.

Some of this year's fund-raising activities included raffles, bake sales, the selling of ice-cream during lunch, and "Mean Green" and "Green Pride" pins. A new fundraiser was introduced to Westwood High School — the selling of wastebaskets! Springtime activities included the Bloodmobile and an all-school dance.

Many thanks to Miss Judith Bolles, our advisor, whose time, patience, understanding, and dedication was unending and greatly appreciated.

Under the guidance of Mr. David Sanfason, the Board performed many useful and meaningful tasks. The Board's purpose is to institute changes in the school that benefit the student body and the school as a whole. These proposed changes are presented to the School Committee bimonthly.

During this past year, the Board successfully enacted a program that enabled class rank to be released to sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The resulting hard work and progress would not have been possible without the leadership of Laurie Bigelow, and the dedication of Phil Murphy, Dan Scales, Mariana Giovino, and Henry D'Angelo.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

This organization, which is based on scholarship, leadership, and service concentrated its efforts on service this year, illustrated by such projects as the Martha Jones tutoring program, the scholarship drive, and the reunion tea for former National Honor Society members. Also, this year's National Honor Society sent five representatives to the meeting of the Eastern Massachusetts National Honor Societies at Bridgewater State College.

The Society, being composed of many colorful and fun-loving individuals, had a multitude of memorable moments this year. The most notable one was the progressive dinner at which the members displayed their talents Christmas caroling door-to-door.

Officers Joseph Toffoloni, Mary White, Edward Hanley, and Jane DeSisto would like to thank their advisor, Miss Dillon, and all of the members for their cooperation and dedication to the organization.

Under the competent guidance of teacher-advisor Mrs. Ellen Eberly, No Parentheses, Westwood's literary magazine, was once more a "gold medal" publication. Successful fund raisers allowed for a fifty-page expansion of the magazine. Also this year, new dimensions were added: original musical compositions; new types of print, courtesy of the graphic arts department; and a revamping of the magazine's layout.

No Parentheses 1980 involved a seventy-member staff which collected, edited, and publicized the magazine. The staff and students of the English, Art, and Graphic Arts departments contributed their loyalty, patience, and perseverance.

Most of all, however, No Parentheses 1980 meant you — all the students of Westwood High. You were the authors, writers, poets, musicians, photographers, and artists who made it all possible. With this in mind, 1980 No Parentheses is dedicated to the entire student body of Westwood High School.

This year, Westwood is hosting two students: Alain Gendron from Canada and Esteban Herrera from Ecuador.

The Club also had many activities during the school year — parties, a dinner at a Brazilian restaurant, a short-term exchange with Pelham High School, New York, a large International Dinner, and other enlightening experiences which enriched the international awareness of all the Club's members.

IT'S ALWAYS SHOWTIME.

Senior Class Play May the Farce Be With You

This year Westwood High's Senior Class was proud to present the comedy, May The Farce Be With You. The play ran for two nights, November 16th and 17th, and was a big success. The cast played to a sell-out audience on both nights of the production.

The play was a "farce" based on the comic book super heroes and villains we used to read about when we were young. The cast was a collection of some of the strangest super heroes ever, such as Acrobatman, H2O Girl, Tapeman, Gadzooks and others. Of course no play about super heroes would be complete without bad guys and this one was no exception. The villains consisted of such foes as Star Raider, Deprava, Nerd, Yuck and KP3, to name a few.

The setting of the play is a health spa called Old MacDonald's Farm. This is where the "E. I. E. I. O." (The Elite, Idealistic, Earth's, Individual Organization) comes to relax and discuss new techniques in fighting crime. The basic plot of the play is that the villains capture the super heroes in order to take over the world. Their plans are spoiled, however, by two unlikely super heroes, Super Brain and Wizard Woman, who are actually the health spa's athletic instructors in disguise. Along with the assistance of the health spa's three (slightly dazed) maids, our peculiar heroes rescue the E. I. E. I. O. and save the world.

The cast put a great deal of time and effort into perfecting the production. Thanks to the great direction of Miss Shute and the fine work of the technical crew, the play was a great success.

The club's purpose is to be of service to home, school, and community; to learn more about different health careers; and to acquaint its members with opportunities in nursing. During the year, the club takes tours of nursing schools and hospitals, helps out in the annual blood mobile, does volunteer work for the community, and occasionally listens to guest speakers.

Marching Band

This year, the Westwood "Wolverine" Marching Band had an absolutely fantastic season. With the help of Mr. Bonaiuto, their dedicated band director, the marching "Q-tips" became stiff competition for many bands. The drum section was considered "the drum line to beat". The band participated in a total of eight competitions including one hosted by Westwood. Organized and staffed by the Westwood Marching Band Parents Association and Chairman, Paul Hanlon, the First Annual Westwood Invitational Marching Band Competition was a booming success.

Under the direction of Drum Major, Peter Clark, the "Wolverines" began the year with a first place at the Hull Competition. This award-winning band placed in every competition and received several special awards for the best drum line and one for the best Drum Major. A rather rainy, but very successful fall concluded with a triumphal victory over arch rivals, the Hull Marching "Pirates."

On December 1, 1979, the band wrapped up their superb season with a formal banquet arranged by the band officers: President, Carmen Crocker; Drum Major, Peter Clark; Vice-President, Susan Downes; Secretary, Nancy Foxx; Treasurer, Laurie May; Librarians, Jennifer Shamlian and Maura Fitzpatrick; and Publicity, Sandra Polechronis.

Over all, this turned out to be the most successful season that the "Wolverines" have ever had.

Orchestra

Under the direction of Sebastian Bonaiuto, the 1979-80 Orchestra was very successful. The orchestra opened the year with a combined junior high and high school concert. After this joint concert, the high school orchestra gave several Christmas programs at the elementary schools and finished the holiday season with the annual high school Christmas Concert. In April, the Orchestra ended their tremendous year with the spring Pops Concert. As always, the small but impressive Westwood High Orchestra experienced an entertaining and rewarding year.

The band performed at various functions throughout the year, such as the Westwood Lions Club ham and bean supper and a Christmas jazz concert at the South Shore Plaza. This spring the band performed at the Music department's annual "Pops" Concert, revisited South Shore Plaza for an Eastern concert, and participated in a musical tour of New England and parts of Canada. The Westwood High School Dance Band has established itself as one of the finest groups of young musicians within Massachusetts and throughout New England.

Double Quartet

The 1979-1980 Double Quartet is a unique blend of talented voices which perform a variety of styles stretching from traditional to popular. During their busy holiday season, the Double Quartet performed at various nursing homes, a church service, a Norwood Hospital (on closed circuit TV), the seasonal choral concert, Mary Hartigan's, the State House, and the Underwood Company. Members included Karen Hansen and Elaine Theriault, sopranos; Lisa Garafo and Susan Downes, altos; John Robinson and Bill Seward, tenors; Ted Schweitzer and Greg Colburn, basses; and Pam Baggeror, piano accompanist.

Equestrian Club

A new club came into being at Westwood High School in the fall of 1979. A group of students interested in horses wanted to start a show team that could compete against other schools in the area. Unfortunately, neighboring school principals did not appear interested in the idea. As an alternative to the show team, the Equestrian Club was formed and is now under the direction of Mrs. Judith DesPres.

During the show season (spring to early fall), the members compete at Sunshine Farm, Applewood Show Ground, and at Saddle Rowe Farm. Many members hope to compete at A and B level shows next season. Some of the members also have ridden in the school's Homecoming parades. The increased interest by students at Westwood High School hopefully will ensure the continued success and expansion of the club.

Green Years

This yearbook has filled our days with new and exciting challenges. Patience, cooperation and hard work have helped us complete each step. But the most significant factor leading to our success has been the invaluable assistance and direction from Mrs. Eberly and Mr. Flahive. The editors and our staff deeply appreciate this help.

The changed format required much time and effort from the advisors, the staff and the editors. But we all will cherish the memories of our hard work for a long time and we trust you will also cherish this memoir of the class of 1980.

We look forward to the continued success of our class in its future endeavors. But most important, we look forward to continuing the friendships which were born in our midst.

"Solo"

Innocently aware, no longer seventeen
Through one way tunnels merging between.
Past broken bridges, the city to blame?
Kin left behind, the agony the pain
Neon lights surround, beyond the screams
Of commercial romance, a drunken Marine.
Across dampened lawn, cool misty rain
Pigeon's peck from a palm
The mark of Cain.

Much to Learn

Born from the flat and dust of Kansas
Teethed on Wisconsin and Ohio,
He was raised in the arms of New England.
His home, Massachusetts, taught much.
Here he learned family love and race hate.
Northwards to Maine he met fear of death,
but also the joy of life's freedom.
Vermont brought him sorrow for lost ones
but the thrills of high winter speed.
New Hampshire gave him pain and frustration.
Still, beauty overcomes even that.
Excitement of age in Rhode Island where new ways came into his scene.
In Connecticut was born first romance and the disappointment that always follows.
This boy has much to learn in life and much more to experience
But then, with forty-four states to go,
he's still very young

The Deadline

Adventure and gaiety called!
 Endless stretches of sparkling sand,
   wetted by a rhythmic tide.
 Forming squiggly lines,
   like doodles on crisp, white paper.
 Impossible, concentration.
 Curtains surround framed glass,
   spilling the warm breath of the sea.
 Resistance.
 "DUE DATE" two days ago
   and clearly stated.
 Now the mind is cluttered.
 Images swirl like leaves in a storm,
   never gathering.
 Screened frustration closing in.
 Concentrate on concentrating.
 Pristine blue-lined paper,

never to be soiled?
 Anxiety, an outsider's envy of completed tasks,
   forgotten by the lucky.
 Those who frolic carelessly and unrestrained.
 No excuse, no justification.
 Behind the captivating squares of wire mesh window branches wave me on.
 I must concentrate.
 My squirming pen resists the uniformity of letters
 Remembering only routine.
   the flow of my name.
 Two days ago, the due date. Now three.
 LATE.
 Another day of adventure and gaiety,
   on endless stretches of inviting sand.

Tides Primeval

By Fran Callaghan '80

The halls diminish in grandness before me
 This must be how Alice felt.
 Each of us rises to our prime
 And embraces it for a short while
 To begin our slide or climb.
 How improbable it seems
 To see ourselves in a span of time
 Other than this
 In a time far from here
 Think back to NOW
 It is the present
 In broken shards of crystal
 About our sandy feet
 Not to be recaptured fully
 But every bit cherished
 As though a whole.

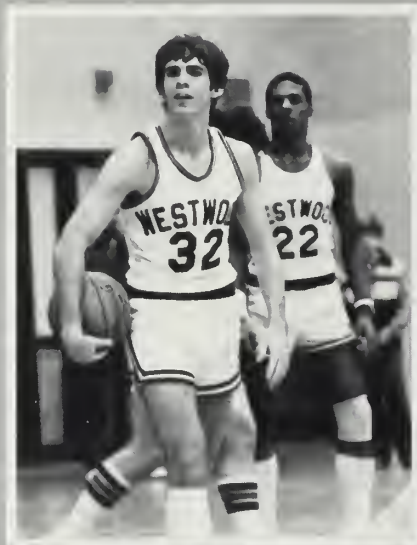

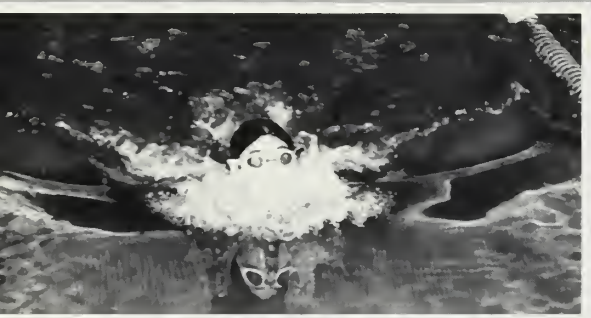

Persistent expansionary climbing,
 Ascension to fulfillment
 I wish you happiness, my friends
 And hope you find that
 Which fires your ambition.
 Some of us are chosen
 The rest of us pretend we are.

One day we shall reunite
 In mind
 Forget not these personalities

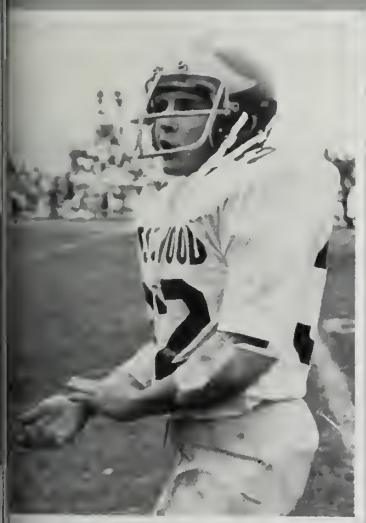

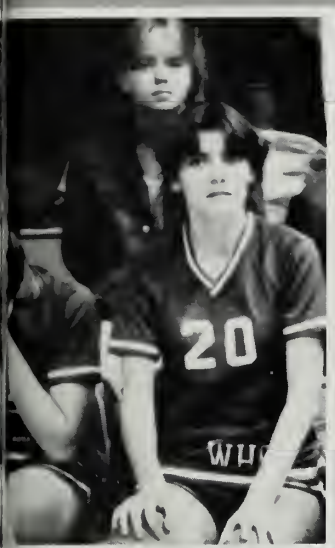

Whether they burst outward
 Or shine inward toward some Benevolent inferno
 For we are an integral part of
 Who you are
 And what you come from

The roof has blown from
 Our sheltered existence
 We are next in line
 To fight the primal tides
 Of time
 Alone, to swim swirling currents
 Meeting with varying degrees of success
 Bonds will break, and we will scatter
 Some will wonder if it matters
 It does.

For three years
 I have witnessed these profound Pagan ceremonies
 And rhythmic processions that spark the Wasteland
 Yet have taken no part of them
 'Til now.
 I'll see you when we meet again
 'Til then.
 This truly is the end,
 My esteemed friends
 But also a rebirth.

The Wolverines, defying rumors of a poor year due to the exodus of starting seniors, came back to earn a very respectable record of seven wins and three losses this past fall. Led by co-captains Chuck Brawley and Bill Crabtree, the team showed strength and determination knowing that last years' team would not win games for them.

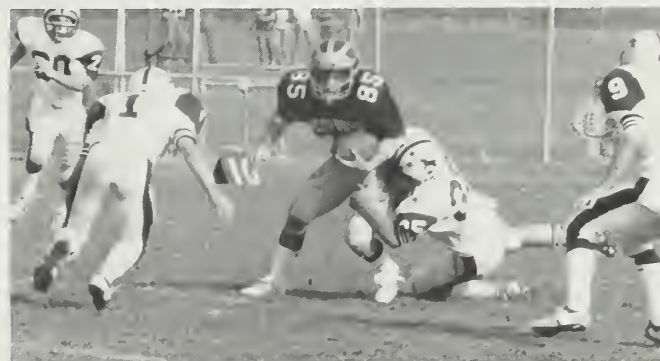

The defense played admirably all year long, giving up an average of only 90 yards rushing per game, certainly better than last year. Throughout the year, Steve Lane, Chris Redden, Scott Harrington, Bob Brooks, and Chuck Brawley discouraged their opponents from trying to run up the middle.

The offense, quarterbacked by Brian Warren, played well in the big games, grinding out ball control wins over Dover and Millis; they also exploded for 34 points in the Homecoming game versus Medway. The offense was led by Bill Crabtree who gained over 600 yards rushing, and Jim Mulgrew who made a number of key receptions.

The season will long be remembered for a number of reasons. It marked the first time a Westwood team had played on astroturf, as they defeated Foxboro at Schaefer Stadium. It was a season in which Westwood gained revenge on Dover for last years defeat. It saw Westwood wipe Millis out of the Super Bowl for the second year in a row. And finally, Westwood was rated number one twice in Division Four, never before accomplished by the Wolverines. Westwood experienced a season of firsts, a season of excitement, a season to be remembered.

Boys' Soccer

With the arrival of Coach Healy, everyone was optimistic about the season ahead of the Wolverines. The pre-season went well except for the loss of Billy Brady to a broken ankle during a Xaverian scrimmage.

Westwood lost their first game 1-0 to Medway, but beat their next three opponents: Ashland, Hopkington, and Millis by a combined score of 23-0. Now came the real test facing Medfield and Dover in the same week. With a loss to Medfield 1-0 they were determined to beat Dover. The Wolverine endurance and ability was not enough to conquer the tough Dover team. Dover won with a score of 1-0. They went on to beat Holliston 4-0, but unfortunately lost to Medway 1-0. No matter how many games the Wolverines were to win, they could not qualify for the state tournament. With hopes still alive, they beat Ashland and Hopkington and also tied Millis. Playing the remainder of the season with much pride, Westwood tied Medfield 1-1. They then were faced with Dover once again. Despite all of the Wolverines' strength, Westwood was not able to beat that stubborn Dover team. The team went on to beat Holliston 2-0 in the last game of the season.

End Results: 7 wins, 5 losses, 2 ties

Best average of goals per game in Westwood's Soccer History of .5 goals per game

The team competed in the State Championships; unfortunately, they were knocked out in the first round. Next year they hope to do much better!

A special congratulations to Jane DeSisto and newcomer, Sue MacMullen who were chosen as Tri-Valley League All Stars for their outstanding performance throughout the season.

Coach Roche did a fantastic job with the J.V. team. Co-captains Sue Padell and Sheila Roach led the team to a first place finish in the Tri-Valley League.

Boys' Basketball

Under the second year tutelage of Coach Bob Bonn, our Wolverines compiled a lofty 16 wins and 4 losses second place in the Tri-Valley League, and the qualification for the Eastern Massachusetts Tournament. However, winning basketball is a tradition in Westwood. The 1979-1980 season will probably be best remembered for the increased attendance, at home games, by the enthusiastic fans, the warmly appreciated appearances of our newly created band, and the informative game programs, published by the Westwood Booster's Club.

This year's team was co-captained by Jeff Smith and John MacLellan. Jeff led the team in scoring and rebounds, while John, the point guard, was second in scoring, and first in assists and steals. Jeff and John were selected to the Tri-Valley League All-Star Team. Jim Ward, despite missing five games due to injuries, made a tremendous offensive contribution, with his deadly outside shooting. Chad Bell, with his crowd-pleasing jumping ability, was a strong factor with his rebounding and timely scoring. Chad was also selected as an honorable mention to the all-star team. Scott Harrington was

Mr. Hustle, offensively and defensively. Chris DeSisto, after displaying true round ball talent, sustained a severe knee injury, and missed the entire second half of the season. Billy MacLellan, with his ball handling and defensive skills, was an excellent man off the bench. Mark Beder performed nobly in key situations, when one of the starting big men had to be substituted. Gerard Hill, Bill Bartow, Stefan Kohler, and Brian Warren comprised a strong bench making significant contributions to this successful season.

Finally, an analysis of this team's achievements would be incomplete without mentioning the contributions, physical and psychological, of the new trainer, Mike Ryan. His intensity, compassion, and enthusiasm were significant assets.

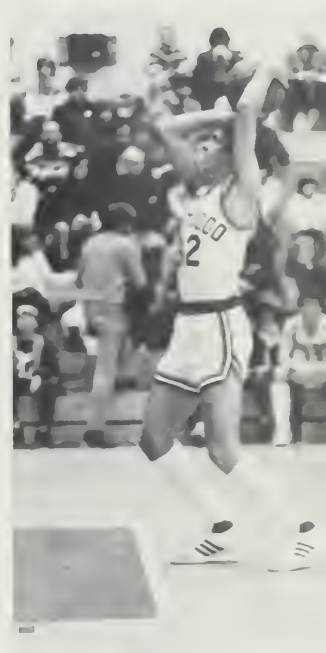

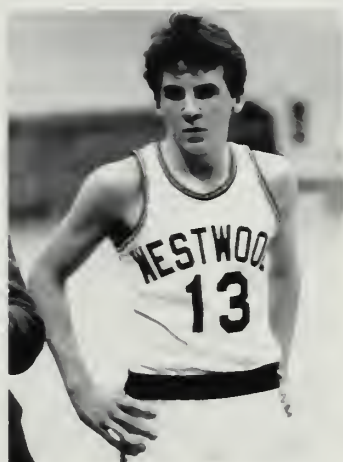

Bob Bonn, after two years of coaching, has compiled an overall record of thirty wins and ten losses. He is an intelligent and dedicated man, with the ability to motivate his players. We are fortunate to have such an individual in our school's coaching ranks.

The tremendous enthusiasm and talent the girls displayed all season enabled them to race away with the TVL League Meet championship.

The girls also made a phenomenal showing in the Class B State Meet, placing fourth overall. Outstanding performances included: Chrissy Kelly, first; Valerie Allen, second; Susie Montambo, fifth; and the mile-relay team of Kelly, Dresens, Allen and Mitchell, fifth.

The team could not have been champion tracksters without the spirit, direction, and dedication of their coaches, Roger Cummings and Harvey Fischler.

Boys' Swim Team

This year's swim team, under the tremendous guidance of newly-found aquatic sage William "Call me Coach Bill" Wentworth found only a mediocre number of wins this year (5-7), but was more successful than any other Westwood Club in recent memory. At the start of the season, Coach Bill predicted only the butterfly record would be broken, but records were smashed up until the last meet, totalling an incredible seven new Westwood High Records.

Aiding Coach Bill were managers Jennifer Cloney and Lauren Riley, who did a great job and put in a great deal of time. Captains John Mason and Dan Dion, both divers, were in top form, as was junior Mike Berlin, in diving competition this year, although John missed the first part of the season due to a foot injury.

Seniors Darren Glover and Barry MacQuarrie were fierce competitors throughout the season in the breast stroke, as was awesome butterfly man Esteban Herrera. Seniors John Wells and Fran Callaghan excelled in freestyle events, and Fran was reluctantly converted into a distance man.

A very firm foundation on this club were the dependable Juniors. Bob Brawley, Kevin Cloney, and Scott Beaton proved themselves invaluable in any stroke or distance. John Curwen and Mike Falkson were tenacious sprint distance men. Brian Gavin and Rob Halligan were solid in long distances as was promising sophomore Jack Lodge. In addition to being an exceptional backstroker, Frank Hunt consumed over 300 pairs of swim goggles over the course of the season.

The sophomores were a goldmine of talent, this year, and provided us with a few weird scenes. Remi (Reen eye) Leveckis pared well in many events. Kevin Glynn is an up-and-coming medley swimmer as is Bob Prevett. Dave Callaghan is a new member this year, a free styler, and improved much this season. Scott Bernstein was a relay man beyond compare. Frank Marston and Rob Manning were riddled by illness, but should come back strong as should solo freshman Chris Peterson.

This year's team was a polished, and refined one and should be able to break .500 next year. Says Coach Bill: "Heeeeeelp!!"

Girls' Swim Team

"Do it in the pool" ... put on side two ... turn it up ... what's your excuse ... underwater fights ... "It's 4:00, let's go" ... pizza parties ... diets ... Springfield states in brown Celica ... Ice cream fights ... no more 100's ... ten seconds' rest ... Fun!

The 1979 Girls' Swim team had a rather disappointing season. Under the direction of their new coach, Bill Wentworth, the girls were moved into a higher league where the competition was tougher. Co-captains Maura Winslow and Leslie Ferraro remained undefeated throughout the season.

With about 20 returning lettermen, there is much to look forward to in the 1980 season.

The 1980 Ski Team led by captains Nancy Rogers, Alex Williams, and Steve Lane, and their new coach Mr. Colucci had a fine season. Although there was not much snow the team had a few meets at Blue Hills. Outstanding racers included: John Hurley, Rick Thompson, Scott Montambo, Jordan Stone, and Julie Thompson.

Senior members of the team wish them the best of luck next year!

The Girls' Gymnastics team was extremely small this year. Westwood had no gymnast on the bars and only two competitors on the beam.
